

THE POWERS OF THE MILL-END SALE

WILL HAVE TWO FLOORS MONDAY—THE BASEMENT AND MAIN FLOOR—FOR ACTIVE SERVICE TO OUR PUBLIC.

ALL TOLD, OVER SEVENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS' ($70,000) WORTH!

AS RECORDED BY THE COST TO US,

The Cohen Company

THESE goods represent almost every item of merchandise that is created new for the coming season, and for that reason are the advance guards of what is to predominate as the best and surest styles for Spring, 1903. Short pieces sure—ordinarily from one to ten yards; but you are not limited in quantity, as the starting of the sale presents in most cases hundreds of pieces that match up, and are, therefore, convertible to any use or garment desired. If you make a purchase and are not satisfied with the goods you can return or exchange them within a week's time. Whether Broadcloth, other fine Dress Fabric, Silks, Lace Curtains or Cotton Fabric, the prices will average about one-half.

For Monday's Sale, if possible, please take small packages with you. The Basement has been refitted and now lends equal facilities as a salesroom with the main floor.

All Silk Wearers Must Be Here Monday.

Mill ends our full prices—perhaps only one slight imperfection in the entire piece. That little taint is enough for the maker to throw it aside. The prices are such as will make the sale distinct from any ever made. The Silks are all new this season.
